Advance notice

daheim: daHEIM: Einsichten in flüchtige Leben (daHEIM: glances into fugitive lives)

Invitation to our kick-off event on March 4, 2016

With reference to the immigrants' current situation after fleeing to Germany or Europe, the museum of European cultures - together with the artist barbara caveng, KUNSTASYL, and inhabitants of the residential home for asylum seekers on Staakener Strasse in Berlin-Spandau - is planning, preparing and realizing an exhibition:

"daHEIM: glances into fugitive lives" tries to explore through art and methods of cultural anthropology the know-how, desires, life perspectives and home environments of people who had to escape. The current topic is embedded into its historical context, using the example of people who fled within, to and from Europe in 19th and 20th century. The grand opening will take place on July 21, 2016.

KUNSTASYL is an initiative of artists, creatives, and asylum seekers. Since February 2015 they are dealing with the subject of creating a mutual living environment for humans with a home, daHEIM, and without.

We cordially invite you to "a benign take-over" of the special show room at the museum for European cultures on Friday March 4, 2016 at 5 pm.

5 pm hoisting of the KUNSTASYL flag outside of the museum
7 pm SCHEIDEWEGE (crossroads) KUNSTASYL performance
